8 Banks, 5 Markets Tell Their Advertising Stories in the News

The SIERRA MADRE NEWS last week carried the advertisements of these eight leading Banks and Savings and Loan Institutions:

Bank of America
First Western Bank
Atlas Federal
Brentwood Savings

Pasadena Federal Savings
Coast Federal Savings
Home Savings and Loan
Glendale Federal Savings

The SIERRA MADRE NEWS also carried the advertisements of these five leading markets doing business in this area:

Roberts Market
Ralphs Stores
Roess Market
Von's and Shopping Bag
A & P SuperMarkets

Simplified, this means that these eight Banks and Savings and Loan Associations and these five leading Markets depend upon the SIERRA MADRE NEWS, with its 6,500 circulation, to carry their messages to the 20,000 persons (some 6,000 homes) in Sierra Madre, Hastings Ranch, the Sierra Madre Villa sector, the Oaks-Highland and Rosemead-Foothill areas.

If they depend upon the SIERRA MADRE NEWS for this vital service, OTHER ADVERTISERS CAN, TOO.

Council Meets

Flood Control Problem

The question of flood control for the Passionist Monastery — North Sunnyside — Michillinda area, a pressing problem in view of possible heavy and disastrous rains, gave City Council a genuine headache at its Tuesday night meeting.

So did a proposed amendment clarifying the home occupation ordinance and the Recreation Department's plan to spend $800 to hire Al Cope, a park plan expert, to give advice on a park development program for City Park and Sierra Vista Park.

After several hours of deliberation during which a goodly number of citizens spoke their piece, Council decided to await the return from his vacation by Father Plus, head of the monastery, meanwhile not budging from their position, tossed the recreation problem right back into the laps of the commission, and expunged a conflicting section from the proposed home occupation amendment.

MEANWHILE, it was decided to erect two debris containment dams above the Mira Monte Reservoir, at the edge of the Daniels flood waters rushing from the two canyons, in that area and down N. Mountain Trail. City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington has placed the cost of these debris

Lee Shippey Writes On Home Folk

THERE MAY seem to be an excessive number of asserted painkillers advertised on television — until you realize how many programs, in spite of recent improvement, still are a pain in the neck.

WE MOVED AWAY from Sierra Madre more than four years ago, but it's still so much the old home town that it gave us our big thrill of New Year's Day to see the Sierra Madre float take first honors in its class in the Tournament of Roses parade.

And now that San Diego is our home big city, we had a thrill out of the awarding of the Sweepstakes Prize to San Diego. If only the football game had gone our way, too, we would have asked the band to play "The End of a Perfect Day."

BUT ALL SUCH feelings remind us how deep are one's loyalties to places or even areas in which one has gained good friends and been happy.

O. Henry once wrote a delightful story about a man who boasted he was a citizen of the world, at home in Rome, Paris or New York but not bound to any one place.

Then someone said something insulting about Podunk, Ia., which was the town in which that free soul had been born, and the result was a fight.

Post Office Dedication This Afternoon Fires And Accidents Cost Life Of Aged Woman, $10,000 Damage

Holmquist To Make Principal Address

BULLETIN

The John Marshall Junior High School Band, Calvin Rainey, director, will play three pieces at the start of the Post Office dedication program, starting at 1:50 p.m. The band was obtained through the efforts of Frank B. Barbour, Joe Delgatto, and Postmaster Charles E. Louk.

Sierra Madre celebrates its beautiful new $120,000 Post Office Building with dedication exercises beginning at 2 p.m. today at the building, 61 S. Baldwin.

Raymond R. Holmquist of San Francisco, regional director, U.S. Post Office, and former Pasadena postmaster, will make the principal address, with such notables as U.S. Senator Clair Engle, Mayor W. Webster Vannier, and John Schuman, president, Los Angeles County Postmasters Association, looking on.

POSTMASTER CHARLES E. LOUK will welcome the guests, afterwards presiding at an open house extending from 3 to 4 p.m. Robert H. Green, manager for Southern California Edison in Sierra Madre, will supervise the refreshments, aided by Harold Johnson, customer consultant for the company, and Loraine Ray, its home economist.

The Arcadia Music Mart provided the organ for the music played during the program and the California Water and Phone Company lines for the acoustics transmissions.

Dana Fights S.M. Forest Fire Charge

The defense of Donald Roland Dana, 32-year-old Pasadena former barber, on trial in Citrus Municipal Court in West Covina, on murder charges growing out of the flame-death of Michael B. Rushworth, 19-year-old Vermont boy and member of a "hot-shot crew" fighting the Sierra Madre forest fire last Oct. 31, will be that he was home in bed at the time.

Indications are that the defense, producing Dana's mother as a witness, will attempt to have set aside Dana's alleged confession that he not only ignited the disastrous Sierra Madre blaze but some 12 others.

A dramatic moment occurred during the first day of the trial when Miguel Gonzalez of Claremont, foreman of the Dalton "hot-shot crew" of which Rushworth was a member, described the fatal burning of the latter.

"OUR MEN were about ten feet apart," he said, "with Rushworth about fifth in line. A big gust of wind blew up, bringing the flames across our line. I gave orders to retire."

"By that time the fire was already behind us. I saw Rushworth running. I tried to get some one to stop him but when I reached him he was badly burned."

Dr. Thomas L. Gore of Los Angeles, a psychiatrist, testified that Dana was sane; another psychiatrist claimed he is insane. Dana is a former mental institution patient on probation. The case is being heard before Judge A. H. Miller.

Boyd Smith In Hospital

Boyd Smith, Sierra Madre building permit chief, is in Sierra Madre Community Hospital in serious condition following an operation for removal of a kidney stone.

Dr. Charles J. Kurth, attending physician, reports his condition as satisfactory though he must remain in the hospital for some time yet.

Carts Away Gifts, Too

Burglar Reaps $500 In Women's Wear

A burglar with a penchant for women's clothing invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. James R. (Phyllis) Nixon at 309 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. last Thursday morning, while the family was absent, and escaped with approximately $500 in loot, mostly clothing apparel and Christmas gifts.

The burglary was discovered by Mrs. Nixon when she returned home at noon after having been absent since 10 a.m. Mr. Nixon was at work and a daughter at school.

The burglar entered the home through an unlocked window in Mr. Nixon's bedroom situated at the rear of the house.

ARTICLES TAKEN, as enumerated by Police Sgt. H. S. Embree, in charge of the investigation, included:

A musical clock, Swiss movement; black clothing evening bag; red lizzard cigarette case, bottle of perfume, black and white dress, box containing a peach-colored nightgown, white slip, pink petticoat with matching pink panties, lavender chiffon full skirt.

Also red clutch bag with matching shoes, black patent leather shoes, new black kid gloves, a camera loaded with film, and several other articles of apparel, including handkerchiefs.

IN THE SEARCH for loot the burglar ransacked bureau after bureau, leaving the drawers open and scattering their contents about the floor.

Wag Paints End Of Cannon Base

A wag with a certain degree of humor disliked the white cement projecting from under the end of the cannon in City Park.

So he phoned police he was painting it black — "just to harmonize, you know."

When pressed for his name he said he was "George Washington" and would see the police "across the Delaware."

Sure enough, When Officer Leonard Carnighan went to investigate he discovered the cement end was painted black.

J. T. Russell Passes Away

Joe Tom Russell, 79, of 150 W. Montecito, a real estate broker, a Californian for 50 years and Sierra Madre resident since 1926, passed away on Jan. 8 at Sierra Madre Community Hospital. He had been in failing health for some time.

Originally, Mr. Russell was in the real estate business with the late Judge Tom Neale. He also was a long-time member of the Kiwanis Club. Surviving is a brother John Robert Russell of Athens, Calif.

Services were to be at 11 a.m. today at the Ripple Mortuary Chapel. Officiating will be Rev. George W. Lindsay of the Congregational Church. Interment in Sierra Madre Cemetery.

S.M. Firemen Battle 2 Stubborn Blazes

Fires and an accident took their toll during the week in Sierra Madre, bringing death to an aged woman and damage approximating $10,000. Both fires posed difficult problems for firemen.

Mrs. T. M. Stimfling, 79, died from pneumonia and minor effects of gas escaping at her home at 290 W. Laurel early last Saturday, according to authorities.

Fire early Thursday morning inflicted around $6,000 damage to the two-story stucco and frame dwelling house at the rear of Dumas and owned by Norman R. Dumas.

There, a dog and a parakeet belonging to the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. George McDougall, suffocated, the cocker-spaniel on the upper floor.

The second fire, Friday night, in a garage at the Mrs. Dorothy E. Gabler home, 676 Ramona, caused damage estimated at $2,600, with $2,000 of this to the contents.

There was no car in the garage which Fire Chief Charles E. Brown and Fire Marshal Bert Embree report was jam-packed with automobile repair machinery and supplies owned by Mrs. Gabler's son, Jack Longo. The latter has discontinued his garage and auto supply shop in Altadena and had stocked the supplies in the garage pending opening of a new shop.

FIREMEN FOUND it necessary to wage a 90-minute fight against the flames and to move practically all of the supplies from the garage before the fire could be extinguished.

When Mrs. Stimfling did not pick up her mail as usual Saturday, her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. (Mae) Burmeister of 274 W. Laurel, became concerned. Receiving no response after knocking on the door, they broke into the house and found Mrs. Stimfling on her bed, partially conscious.

There was also the smell of gas, escaping into the house apparently from the outside.

Dr. Mervin H. Peterson had Mrs. Stimfling ambulated to the hospital where she later succumbed, mostly due to the effects of pneumonia. The coroner was to give a verdict later.

IN THE DUMAS FIRE, Mr. and Mrs. McDougall had gone to work 15 minutes earlier. All of their furniture and clothing went up in flames and smoke, firemen experiencing difficulty in battling the latter.

Norman Dumas reports that the entire interior of the building was gutted and will have to be reconstructed. It lies between the Dumas store and Masonic Temple and at angles from the Union Oil service station.

The loss is covered by insurance. Origin is undetermined.

Report On Senior Citizens For Coordinating Council

A follow-up report of the Senior Citizens' Study Committee, headed by Mrs. Claude H. Brown, Jr., will be given at the next meeting of the Coordinating Council, Tuesday, Jan. 16, 8 p.m., at the Sierra Mesa Cafeteria.

As a result of its study, the committee has made preliminary recommendations to the Coordinating Council. As a further step the Coordinating Council Board and the committee, at a joint meeting, developed a more definitive list of recommendations, following a thorough evaluation of the report, to be presented to the Coordinating Council for its action.

Copies of board action and recommendation have been sent to Coordinating Council representatives for discussion within their own organizations. Recommendations from the organizations are to be brought to Coordinating Council.

ARTHUR RIGGS, of the Los Angeles County Division of Senior Citizens, will be guest for the evening and will serve in an advisory capacity.

Reports of the White House Regional Conference in November and the Governor's Conference on Youth will be made.

The SIERRA MADRE NEWS Gladly Shoulders Its Extra-Added Responsibilities

Discontinuance of the Los Angeles Examiner and the Los Angeles Mirror-News making the California metropolis a two-newspaper city, adds additional burdens on the small newspapers in the San Gabriel Valley such as the SIERRA MADRE NEWS, San Marino Tribune, Monrovia News-Post and Arcadia Tribune, to mention a few.

This burden is in addition to that of competition, both advertising and circulation, for it means the smaller papers must add more quality to their assemblage and distribution of news. At the same time, they must add advertising lineage in order to meet increased costs of this news production.

The SIERRA MADRE NEWS pledges itself wholeheartedly to this task — it desires your news and it needs advertising lineage from its present and prospective patrons.

WE WISH TO CALL the attention of our readers and advertisers to the "exclusives" now appearing in this newspaper — articles and news obtainable in no other newspaper.

These include editorials which have become outstanding — and provocative — and into which the reader can "sink his teeth" whether he thinks them right or wrong; the weekly column by the beloved Lee Shippey; that by Henry MacArthur, "Conservative Watchdog of the Capitol" at Sacramento; Robert G. Spivack's Liberal-slanted column from Washington, D.C.; "Cobwebs," which takes you back into the yesteryear.

Then, too, there are the "home-spun" columns by Joyce Wenger, dealing with Hastings Ranch folk; that of Toni Maurin telling of the doings in Sierra Madre Villa and Martha Sharp's inimitable "Around the Town" column giving stories and gossip about Sierra Madreans.

Atop this, is the multitude of news about what is going on in Sierra Madre and adjoining territory.

PLAZA SHOP TALK the world who ever read
By Sewall Clark Edwin Arlington Robinson?
Tristan?

HAVE YOU ever had that Through literature, which kind of day when you walk is merely the recording of around feeling as if maybe human experience, we know you are the only person in it is perfectly normal for people to feel lonely once in awhile. You can be happy with your marriage, your children, your home and garden — even with your Rolls Royce — and suddenly you can look at a bird flying and wonder what it is to have wings.

WE WERE talking about this at the Plaza Shop the other day. Or rather, we were in the patio with a woman who had come in just to look around. A friendly informality without loss of dignity often gives rise to good conversation — and by "good conversation"
I do not mean "chatter."

SHE DID NOT buy a dress;
she did not apologize, and I liked her for that. Two days later she came back with two friends and the three of them bought such a variety of garments that I was amazed to discover that our tiny shop is so versatile.

IT IS TRUDIE, my wife, who knows the garment industry. She was in it herself. A fashion designer with top credits, she also was a manufacturer.

AFTER SHE RETIRED, I saw the location at 39 East
Montecito and when AL
Suman told me it was all right to refer to his area
there as "The Montecito Plaza" (Paying me for this?
That will be the day!) I saw the patio and I looked at the mountains and I saw the evening birds diving and swimming in their element and I said to myself:
"Clark — you are a sneaky, convincing husband."

SO NOW our little gal, Trudie from Vienna, is working again and all I do is stare at the sky — or at a typewriter. What a wonderful life!

OUR PLAZA SHOP is about the size of a large closet, but from the patio
the sky is big. The prices are the kind that give wealthy bargain hunters a thrill. Don't listen; just look!
We are not a "sample shop," although we do have an "inside" to designers' originals once in a while — thanks to Trudie.

WE ARE just plain lucky.

And if we have your size in the garment you seek — so are you. No exclamation point, please.

If and/or when in doubt—
"ASK TRUDIE!"

POSTSCRIPT
From the Plaza Shop? No, m'am — this time from Sewall Clark as spelled in "Plaza Shop Talk."

My wife, Trudie, is "marking down" a few dresses, but I don't know why.
We have "sales" every day of the year, so why should we follow the old notion of "periodic" sales? At least, this is what I keep telling her.
So what happens? She keeps marking them down.
Her "specials" are on one rack and one rack only, and it's a small rack, thank goodness.

By Martha Sharp
ELgin 5-0003

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD T. (ELIZABETH) DAMMEYER and son, Don, hosted Christmas dinner for 17 family members at their home at 705 Edgeview Dr., including son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ted (Dorothy) Dammeyer and children, Kathy, 2½; Ted Jr., 9 months; Mr. and Mrs. John Kemper (she's the former De De Dammeyer), with John's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Kemper of Pasadena; his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas, children, John, Trena, Jennifer and Deborah, of Azusa; and Eddie's mother, Mrs. Emma Dammeyer of Pasadena.

This is a yearly event for the hospitable Dammeyers. Everyone enjoys themselves and each other—and the gourmet food is wonderful. Elsie is one of the best cooks in town, or let's say, the country.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK and skill landed a 40-pound salmon out of the Sacramento River for Selmar Peterson during New Year's holiday.

Selmar and Florence always spend a combined Christmas-New Year vacation with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Shirley) Hubbert and young son, Eric, 3½, at Anderson, Calif., ten miles south of Redding.

The salmon have not yet begun to make their seasonal run, but this fellow became adventuresome and Selmar got 'im.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER (JUNE) GARRISON of 1715 Orangewood Lane, Upper Arcadia, are parents of a daughter, Paulette Anne, born at the Sierra Madre Community Hospital Dec. 11. Paulette has five brothers and sisters, namely, Christine, 12; Janis, 10; Richard, 7; John, 4, and Teresa (who also was born in the Sierra Madre Hospital) will be 2 in March.

When asked if she was a member of any organization in the Foothill Area, Mrs. Garrison good naturedly replied, "I was a member of the Arcadia Junior Women's Club, but now I have a club of my own consisting of six children and a husband who will keep me organized and busy for a few years to come."

YOU'LL SEE THREE oil paintings by Sierra Madre artists when you attend the dedication of the new Sierra Madre Post Office this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Look on the north wall panel above the counter (that's J. Jackson Butler's station) and you'll see Ruby Anderson's painting of the first U.S. Post Office in California, established in the 80's.

"This ramshackle P.O. at the village of Kaweah is the only surviving building of the now extinct lumbering enterprise, the Keweah Cooperation Commonwealth Colony, which is still operating, and lies in the foothills below Sequoia National Park a few miles off State Highway 198."

NOW LOOK to your right and see Beatrice Ward McIvor's portrait of her maternal grandfather, Frederick Nichols, painted from life when he was 88 years old. Lydia Marie's Sierra Madre local scene hangs on the south wall, entitled "Fascination Father's Retreat."

The exhibit is a special tribute to dedication of our new post office.

NEW EXHIBIT at Headliner by Sierra Madre artists is one "Lake Maggonie," painted by Maggie Ascher, a still life; "Melody in Romance," Harriett Belcher, landscapes; "Eaton's Canyon Park," Cornelia Reimer; "Ahwahnee Ranch," Hazel Morley; still life of vegetables, Bernard Wynne, and the Santa Barbara Yacht Harbor, Ray Du Shane.

THERE ARE 50 limited edition prints of Lee Wexler's original lithograph available at the Sierra Madre Library. You'll receive one for a donation of $4 which will go toward support of a first-time show of some of the best professional artists in Southern California, to be sponsored by the Friends of the Library in March.

Space and time will be given by Ramon Lopez and Exandru Art Galleries on E. Montecito.

Gone, like the five-cent cigar and trolley car, are two more metropolitan newspapers. It must be the printer's ink in my blood, for although not a subscriber to either the Chandler-owned Mirror or Hearst's Examiner, I regret their passing from the American scene.

So much work that goes into a newspaper is a labor of love and a public service, that we sometimes tend to forget it's also a business and must show a profit to exist.

The death of these two papers means less competition; and less competition is always the consumers' loss. In this case, all readers in the Southland lose, regardless of whether they liked the papers or not.

It's my belief, that nowhere in our wonderful free enterprise system is the spirit of competition more important than in the news media.

Stay with me while I tell you of my introduction to a big city daily, and you'll see what I mean.

I WAS a 17-year-old college freshman and pleased as punch when I obtained a job as copy girl on Marshall Field's brand new "Chicago Sun." Many of the journalistic greats were on the staff those first six months. Fields was out to break the famed Chicago Tribune, and no expense was spared, (except perhaps in my salary of $17 a week).

The Sun shared office space and presses in the magnificent Chicago Daily News building. United Press offices were on the same floor, and I can tell you it was an exciting beginning for an aspiring young newspaper woman from a small Midwestern city.

TRUE, THERE'S NOT a byline or living wage given a copy girl, but the entire news plant is her beat — from the basement press room to the top executive office.

And all along the route are the paper's veterans — editors, newswriters, photographers, cartoonists, morgue librarians, engravers, printers — happy to impart a friendly word and share a trade secret or two, with a fresh recruit.

It was a rough schedule after school hours and the long "L" ride down from Evanston, but I treasure every memory of that hectic 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. shift.

Chicago had six dailies then, and competition was stiff. Here's a story to illustrate my point. It was mid-way through World War II and European invasion rumors were rampant.

One night, (typical of movie versions, it was minutes before presses would roll the final edition), a 'reliable source' reported landings in Belgium. The question — to risk being scooped or await verification.

Reluctantly, foreign editor Von Hartz decided to ignore the report, and the staff nervously waited for the final editions to hit the stands.

In Chicago, morning papers go on sale the night before, and so at 11:30 p.m. I was dispatched to RUN to the Northwestern Railway station and pick up our competitors papers. When the staff found the Tribune and Hearst papers had spread the INVASION story across the front page, they were sick, to say the least. Next day however, they quashed the mass invasion report with the true story about a small commando raid.

Six years later I reminded Mr. Von Hartz of his correct split-second decision when we met in the New York Times building. He was by then, first assistant to the Times publisher — and I, well, I was an assistant editor of Associated Press, and still underpaid, I thought! Time marches on, and three of Chicago's dailies have succumbed. Now that I'm a mother and homemaker I'm a strong roofer for another great example of competitive free enterprise — the communities weekly newspapers. God help us, if these should ever pass from the American scene!

AT THE HAMPTON RD. home of Rose Princess Joan Zeman, an exquisitely beautiful Dior red velvet gown has been fondly packed away, and press clippings pasted in a scrap book.

The drama and excitement of the Tournament of Roses festivities is over, but not likely to be forgotten by any member of the Zeman family.

Joan's grandparents, Mrs.

L. M. Butler of Clear Lake, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Piskac of North Bend, Nebraska; as well as Joan's brother, Al, from San Jose State College were all here to share and enjoy the gala and hectic activities.

From the time Joan's name was announced as a finalist, congratulations have been pouring in from long time friends — many reminding her they knew her WHEN she was a princess, which I thought lovelier than any previous year. In case you missed the details: the Dior red velvet gown was a sheath gown with full overskirt trimmed with a heavy lace border. Joan will have the joy of wearing her gown again and again to future coronation balls.

The Princesses, in their smart daytime wardrobes, hardly had a moment's rest for weeks. A few of the highlights, Joan tells me, were numerous TV appearances, luncheon in Hollywood with Ronald Reagan, a trip to Disneyland with BOTH football teams, and a Christmas party with the Minnesota team.

DID YOU EVER wonder if it's early to bed on New Year's Eve for the Queen and her court, so they'll look their dazzling best for the BIG DAY? I can't say about the other girls, but Joan welcomed the New Year in, at the Arcadia home of boy friend, Bill Frazier. They hosted his SAE fraternity brothers and their dates from UCLA. No question who was the belle of that ball!

CATCHING UP with more New Year's Eve party news: Belle and Jack Patch invited friends for early evening open house on New Year's Eve. Guests stopping by the Patches before scattering to their various eve destinations were Messrs. and Mrs. John Ford, John Engler, Kirwin Eisenhart, Ted Eaterling, Curtis Wyatt, Roger Otis, Cecil Tarplee, Warren Stranahan, Robert LaFon, Kenneth Julin, Reynolds Cairncross, and their Santa Barbara houseguests, Marvin McClain, Roger Peterson, and Dr. and Mrs. Harry Blecker. Belle, by the way, is no doubt holding "open houses" of another nature these days — having joined Ken Smith's real estate office!

SPOTTED PHYLLIS and Merle Miller at the Pasadena Playhouse, enjoying the ticket prize they won in the UHR Christmas Decoration contest. Merle's cousins from Elkart, Ind., were here to see the Rose Parade. They were amazed at Colorado street the night before the parade, and particularly enjoyed seeing the floats in production. I wonder how many of the local citizenry have ever watched or participated in the ingenious task of float decoration.

FAIRMEADE NEIGHBORS (14 of them, that is) join together each year for a Progressive Christmas party. Actually, the women meet monthly for luncheon, and twice a year their husbands are invited.

And so it's become a popular Christmas custom for Messrs. and Mrs. Ashby, Robert Christmas, Evan Cottam, Michael Granieri, Bruce Kelly, James Nichols, Lawrence Ryan, Norman Simonson, Tom Thomas, Evan Whitlock and Mrs. Frances Swanson.

This year, cocktails were served at the Simonsons, main course at the Whitlocks, and dessert and exchange of gifts at Ryans.

Especially welcome guests were Dorothy and Bill Taylor, former Fairmeade residents now living in Vista. Some may recall that Bill is an avid amateur radio operator and a year ago entertained a fascinating Englishman who spent a week in the Ranch while enroute from South Africa to establish a new home in Australia.

Since then, both the English gentleman and Bill Taylor have established new homes, with little interruption in their thrice weekly "ham" sessions!

Linda Hale Is Bride of R. B. Moore

Linda Monroe Hale became the bride of Robert Bruce Moore in pre-holiday rites at Freeman Chapel of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church the afternoon of Dec. 20, with Dr. Roy J. Dollenmayer officiating.

THE CEREMONY was witnessed by the immediate families. The bride was attended by Mr. Moore's sister, Miss Patricia Moore, and Lindsay Hale, brother of the bride, was the best man.

Mr. Moore will be graduated next month from the University of California at Santa Barbara. He is affiliated with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

The bride is a Junior at the same school and a member of the Alpha Phi Sorority.

A WEDDING DINNER was held for the wedding party and guests at the Los Angeles Athletic Club after which the young couple departed for a San Francisco honeymoon. The Moores, both third generation Californians, will be at home in Santa Barbara till the completion of the school term.

Don't underestimate your competition — or overrate your skill.

Tax Returns Now Fileable

Taxpayers may now file annual property statements with the deputy assessors now calling at each residence in this area, County Assessor John R. Quinn announces.

If not at home when the deputy calls, this required statement may be filed at any of the 79 county branch offices. A doorknob notice is left by the deputy assessor at each home when the resident is not in, and this notice lists all branches.

For the convenience of residents of this area, a branch office of the county assessor is located at Sierra Madre City Hall and will be open from 9 to 4:30, starting Jan. 16.

Due to circumstances beyond my control I am going to be forced to take up golf if I am to continue this column. Since our Eaton course opened up last week the women have been going off the hill as if there was a plague.

I don't want you to think that I am not equipped to play the game. I have a bag and clubs, and a few old balls. I inherited them back in 1935 from a dear old friend who had given the game up some 20 years previously.

I don't mind one bit that the bag looks kind of like an elongated pencil case — it's light and easy to carry. The clubs are just grand. It's a matched set, and do you know, the wood on the shafts is so good it hasn't even got silvers in it.

I may have to invest in new balls. I don't know just how long they last. Oh, and I forgot, I have a cart too, so I can carry my lunch!

HOSPITALITY reigned supreme at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Schram on Mesita Rd.

Their son Robert returned home from the first semester of his freshman year at St. Mary's College and decided he would like to have a party. As a result he had 30 of his former schoolmates in for "cocktails" and a buffet dinner.

In addition, the Schrams had a party of equal size for cocktails and a late buffet. Their guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Baron, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garcan of San Raphael; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Natzel, Mr. and Mrs. William Pflager, Mr. and Mrs. Al Schuman of Montebello; Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Shulman, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Juergens.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reuter, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stube, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Werkmeister, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Plummer.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE HOLMES and children, Janet and Doug, had the most fabulous Christmas of all. They all flew to Hawaii for a 12-day vacation, leaving on Dec. 19.

They ran into so many Villa View people that it was like a party away from home. One of the nicest occasions was arranged by the hotel on Christmas eve. They all got into boats and went Christmas caroling to some of the homes of the hotel personnel and their families, by that I mean the bus boys and maids and vital help in the hotel.

In addition to Hawaii they took brief trips to the Islands of Oahu and Maui. Upon their return they had a post game buffet that included among those able to attend the Robert Andersons, the Aikman Armstrongs, the Charles Goldsmiths and the James Smiths.

THERE WAS a feeling of warm "hands across the sea" type of friendship prevailing in the Skipper Rostker home on Barhite last Sunday afternoon. The Rostkers had an informal neighborhood tea to introduce Noel Livesay to some of the residents on Barhite, Vosburg, Fairpoint and Sierra Madre Villa.

Mr. Livesay, as you may remember, is the 3rd grade exchange teacher at Eugene Field School. His home is near Lancaster, England, deep in the snow and ice at the moment.

He has been staying at the Rostkers till his apartment in the area is ready for occupancy.

Another interesting guest at the tea was Ivan Juo, a foreign student from Formosa, who is studying at PCC. He is living for the school year with the George Wenglers.

Slimnasium Exercises,
Open To Sierra Madreans

Registrations are open for Sierra Madre women to enroll in the Slim and Trim Series and the Slimnasium Series sponsored by the Pasadena Department of Recreation. Registrations are made at the business office, 1501 E. Villa St., Pasadena.

The general public is invited to enroll in one or more classes which begin the week of Jan. 22 at the Pasadena High School on Monday and Wednesday nights, and at the Shuffleboard Club House, Monday and Wednesday mornings. Muir High School will open on Tuesday night, Jan. 30.

THE SLIM AND TRIM Series is a body conditioning series conducted in eight one-hour lessons to a musical background. This series is conducted at the new girls' gym at Pasadena High School on Wednesday nights. The Monday night series of Slim and Trim will be in the new dance studio room at Pasadena High School this semester.

Sisters Of
St. Francis
At Alverno

The Sisters of St. Francis of Penance and Christian Charity who staff Alverno Heights Academy have as special visitors, from Jan. 6-11, their Superior General, Reverend Mother M. Mechtilid, and her companion, Mother M. Richard, from Rome, Italy.

During their stay at Alverno Heights, they visited several classes in session at the academy. They were the guests at a student assembly held in their honor on Wednesday, Jan. 10.

Reverend Mother Mechtilid, whose headquarters are in Rome, arrived in New York City in January, 1961, for a visitation of the three North American provinces of the order. Mother M. Richard, who formerly taught at St. Rita's School, Sierra Madre, from 1942 to 1946, now is an assistant general who represents the United States provinces.

BEFORE THEY LEAVE in April for Rome, they will have completed their tour of the other convents of the Franciscan Sisters in California, Oregon, Washington and Montana.

On the West Coast the congregation operates three hospitals, four high schools (Sisters also teach in two others), 12 grade schools, a day home, and Vallembrasa Retreat House in Menlo Park, Calif. The West Coast Provincial House is located at Redwood City, Calif.

Other branches of the Sisters of St. Francis are in the Netherlands, Germany, Poland, Italy, Brazil, Belgium, Indonesia (Java and Bali), and Tanganyika. The Sisters in these countries engage in one or more of the apostolic activities of teaching, nursing and social work.

THE ORDER has schools of liturgical arts where the Sisters make vestments and art objects for churches. An international school in Rome, a high school in West Berlin, and a leper colony in Brazil are run by the Sisters. In 1958 they opened a clinic and dispensary in Tanganyika and in 1959, an inter-racial school.

C. of C. Planning Dinner
To Culminate Campaign
For Additional Members

The Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce has in prospect another dinner dedicated to furthering the future of this city, according to discussions at last Wednesday's monthly directors meeting.

The dinner, probably the culmination of a determined membership campaign to be waged by a committee headed by Douglas R. Delahouke, probably will be held in the latter part of February or in early March.

THE DINNER of a few months ago, directed by C. of C. President John H. Curtis, proved a distinct success, bringing the organization a profit for the first time in its many dinners.

Ralph G. Hurwit was reappointed chairman of the Merchants Division and a campaign of publicity to arouse interest here.

WALLET IS MISSING Earl J. Slauff of 896 Falling Leaf, Arcadia, advised Sierra Madre police of the loss of his wallet containing credentials and some money, presumably on W. Sierra Madre Blvd., near the old Post Office site.

Hollie E. Cooper
Called By Death

Following a lengthy illness, Hollie E. Cooper, 72, a self-employed carpenter, formerly of 47 N. Lima, Sierra Madre, passed away Jan. 9 in a Monrovia sanitarium. He has been a Californian for 55 years and was a Sierra Madre resident for 15 years.

Surviving are a brother, Frank Cooper of Eugene, Ore., a sister-in-law, Florence Cooper of Alhambra, and a nephew, Owen Cooper of Whittier.

Services were Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Ripple Mortuary Chapel, with Dr. Robert N. Schaper of Bethany Church, officiating. Interment was in Live Oak Cemetery. Mr. Cooper was a member of Bethany Church.

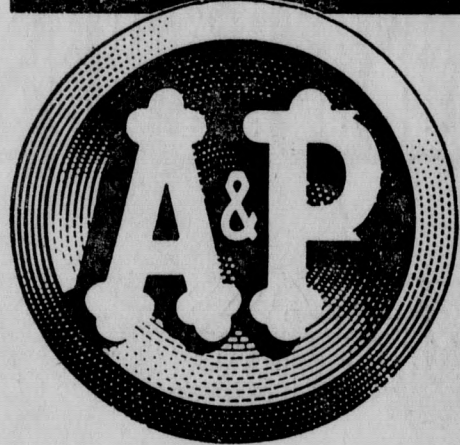

Cassaday To Give
4th Art Lecture

"Toulouse Lautrec and Jacques Offenbach" will be presented by Richard W. Cassaday of Los Angeles State College at 8 o'clock Thursday night, Jan. 11, in the Art and Lecture Room, Arcadia Library.

Fourth in a series of eight illustrated art lectures, this, too, will be a separate entity in itself, and it is not necessary to attend the entire series to derive pleasure and instruction from any single lecture.

The series is being presented by the Foothill Creative Arts Group and its supporting organization "The Sponsor."

Camp Fire Girls Launch Annual Sale This Friday

Sierra Madre and Hastings Ranch Camp Fire Girls are "going places" in 1962 via busloads of salted nuts! Joining other Camp Fire groups in the San Gabriel Valley Council, their annual Salted Nut Sale starts on Jan. 12 with a new product.

A cleverly designed little bus holds three cans of nuts for $1—Virginia peanuts, Spanish peanuts and a can of mixed nuts which contains no peanuts at all!

Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls will sell the "buses" door-to-door and at special sales in front of stores and banks. Horizon Club members of high school age will sell canisters of peanut crunch at $1 a can.

Proceeds of the sale will aid in maintaining a quality program for the girl members, adequate camping facilities, and a well-trained staff to serve both adults and girls. Each year many Sierra Madre-Hastings Ranch Horizon Club, Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds attend sessions at Camp Chiquita, the in-town camp at the top of Fair Oaks Ave. and the summer resident camp, Camp Waswegen, in the San Bernardino Mountains.

PURPOSE OF Camp Fire Girls is to make available to all girls an educational-recreational program with emphasis on love of home and family, citizenship, service, and skills in outdoor living. Girls from 7 to 17 participate as Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Club members under the leadership of trained volunteers.

Mrs. Edward E. Higgins of Sierra Madre is Sierra-Hastings District Nut Sale chairman this year, aided by Distribution Chairman Mrs. Donald E. Wilson of Hastings Ranch.

Participating groups are from Don Benito, Eugene Field, Sierra Madre, Sierra Mesa Elementary Schools, Wilson and Marshall junior high schools and Pasadena High School.

Scout Pack Fun Season

Cub Scout Pack 379, Eugene Field School, had a most active pre-holiday program. Cubs and their families attended the Horse Show at Kellogg Farms and Junior Rose Bowl game. Dec. 15 brought Christmas fun at the Pack meeting. Marguerite Horne was responsible for the lively games, carols, and presence of Santa himself. Through the efforts of the Den Mothers, the Cubs decorated a tree and donated food for a needy family.

Awards received were: Wolf Awards — Craig Anderson, Wolf badge, gold arrow; Gary Jandegian, gold arrow.

Bear awards — Gary Aardahl, silver arrow; Kirk Topits, Bear badge.

Denner stripes — David Cook; assistant Denner, Craig Anderson.

One year pins were received by Richard Barth, Gary Jandegian, Kenneth Lutz, David Cook, Mike Devonshire, Jeff Horne, Mike Lawler, Ron Miller, Mark Steed, Kirk Topits, Jeff Hankins.

THREE BOYS advanced to the Webelos den — David Ashby, Steve Coots and Randy Bennett.

Four Cubs were graduated into Boy Scouts.

Bob Taylor and Mike Washburn were welcomed by Vic Harris, Scoutmaster of Troop 374.

Jack Steffens welcomed Bob Gobrecht and John Morse into Troop 379.

In a Bobcat ceremony six boys became new members of the pack — Peter Alexakis, William Myares, Chuck Osbrink, Ricky Sarmast, Norman Schlinger, and Keith Topits.

Attendance award went to Den 1 and achievement award to Den 6.

Last and most important are the new pack officers — Jim Donohue, Cubmaster; H. W. Osbrink, assistant Cubmaster; Mildred Mico, secretary; Mary Cook, den mother; chairman, and Warren Schlinger, committee chairman.

K.C. To Host Families At St. Rita's

Sierra Madre Council 5137, Knights of Columbus, will host the families of St. Rita's Parish at a breakfast in the School Hall, Sunday, Jan. 14, following the 8 o'clock Mass.

Plans are under the chairmanship of Dick Judge, Catholic activities chairman. This activity is a part of the Knight's comprehensive six-point program under the general chairmanship of Joe Delgatto.

Honor Gifts At Toy Loan

Honor gifts will again be awarded to boy and girl members of Toy Loan at the semi-annual Honor Party on Friday, Jan. 18, at 7 p.m., at Park House.

These members and their parents have been invited to attend the simple awards ceremony at which honorable mention will be made of the boys who have already received their honor gifts.

The girls will receive their "Dolls for Adoption," which they must take care of for six weeks on probation, to show that they know how to take good care of their toys. At the end of this time, if they succeed, they will receive the adoption papers for their dolls.

Mrs. Dean Stoddard, Civic Club Toy Loan Chairman, has arranged for a magician to entertain the guests during the party.

part. A check form is marked showing defects which might make the bike unsafe for a child to use.

RIDER SKILLS — Kiwanis Club and Parent Teacher Association members assist in checking four performance skills for each rider which are considered basic for safe riding ability.

REFLECTOR TAPE — The Kiwanis Club attaches red reflector tape to all bicycles without charge.

REPORT TO PARENTS — Children who participate will have the check sheet showing defects in mechanical conditions and scores on the performance skills. Teachers will send these and written test results home on the day of the rodeo.

MANY CHILDREN need adult assistance in learning to ride safely, yet they hesitate to enter because they might not do well. For this reason, no awards are given and contest aspects of past rodeos have been eliminated. We hope you share our concern for this part of our school safety program.

You can help by:

- 1-Having your child participate.
- 2-Discussing hazards before and after the rodeo.
- 3-Assisting the child get his bike in safe condition if needed.
- 4-Following up on performance practice if needed.

bris dams at around $400 each.

With Mayor W. Webster Vannier spearheading the city's position in the Monterey — N. Sunnyside Michillinda flood control problem, the opposition centered largely on Robert H. Fletcher of 314 N. Sunnyside.

The city's plan is to remove the heavy rocks from the area, create a diversionary channel near the monastery and channel the waters down N. Sunnyside. Fletcher and others present from the N. Sunnyside area, contend this will bring a disastrous flooding of homes in that area. A petition containing 40 names of N. Sunnyside property owners had been sent Council.

THE SITUATION was crystallized by Administrator Bevington in that unless some agreement is speedily reached all the city can do is to wait the heavy rains and then move in with the County Flood Control District with emergency measures.

The return of Father Plus, it is hoped, will help clarify the situation and afford a basis for an agreement. In the interim, councilmen and residents pray that no disastrous rains will result.

The Recreation Commission has shifted $500 of its budgetary funds for hiring of Cope for advice on park development, and asked Council allot $300 more to complete the $800 for his fee. Councilman Loranec, Lisle led the fight against such a move. In the end, Council decided it was up to Commission to provide the entire $800 out of its own budget. Councilman Lisle didn't think it is time for any such expenditure, a conclusion approved by his colleagues.

It took a spell for Council to decide to eliminate one proviso from the proposed amendment to the home occupation ordinance, the amendment designed to clarify confusion now existing. This provision read that "It shall not involve sales or delivery of products or merchandise from the premises except by mail or telephone," which in itself would only have added to the confusion.

COUNCIL NAMED Administrator Bevington, City Atty. Charles R. Martin and Councilman Ralph R. Rule a committee to take part in water supply deliberations inaugurated by the San Gabriel Valley Municipal Water District and the Upper San Gabriel Valley Water Association.

The purpose is to devise means of bringing Feather River water to this area once that system is completed into the Southland.

The hearing on Sewer District 73 went over until the Jan. 23 meeting.

Unless an agreement is reached on the Case property needed for opening of Suffolk St., Council will instruct the city attorney to prepare condemnation suit proceedings. Councilman Severin L. Sorensen inaugurated this move.

Police Officer Tucker Honored

Police Officer Douglas Tucker of the Sierra Madre Department, has been named on the California League of City Employees Association's legislative committee. The appointment was made at the Board of Directors' meeting in Fresno, according to word from Executive George Bevis.

Civic Club Will Hear Mrs. Wiley

Mrs. Edward Wiley, president of the Verdugo District, California Federation of Woman's Clubs, will be guest speaker at the Civic Club meeting this evening (Thursday) at 8 p.m., at Park House.

We're all more like that than we realize, and it's a good thing, for loyalty itself is one of the most heart-warming things in the world.

I NEVER READ of a mountain rescue team anywhere that I don't proudly think: "Sierra Madre has the best — in fact, the first one I knew of — which has saved many lives and, incidentally, won national fame."

I never pick up my phone and hear that someone from Sierra Madre is passing through my present home town and wants to say "hello" that I don't get a glow out of it.

We will always feel that many of the dearest persons we ever knew call Sierra Madre their home town. And we incline to the belief that just living there was one of the things which made them what they are.

From the time when Nathaniel Carter went back to Lowell, Mass. — if I remember correctly — to bring out the first trainload of homeseekers to create Sierra Madre, down to the present, the town has attracted friendly, beauty-loving, artistic and loyal people, and they have created its atmosphere.

WE LOVE our present home town of Del Mar, too. Four of our children were born while we lived here, before moving to Sierra Madre in 1927, and we have made many new friends since returning.

But the Tournament of Roses made us realize how happy we are to take pride in the achievements of our old home town, and how warmly our hearts go out to many persons there whom it is good to remember.

"He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. And he shall be as the light of the morning... as the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain." — Last Words of King David. Old Testament.

"The flames kindled on the 9th of July 1776, have spread over to much of the globe to be extinguished by the feeble engines of despotism; on the contrary, they will consume these engines and all who work them."—Jefferson's "Testament of Freedom."

'We Must Be Militant About Our Freedom'

We believe that the time is here when individual Americans must become militant about our freedom or we can lose it, and that this entails a personal all-out effort to halt the spread of atheistic Communism, both outside and inside the United States.

Thomas P. Pike, president of the Stanford University Board of Trustees, made this amply plain in his recent speech marking the 76th anniversary of Stanford's founding, and in which he enunciated a personal credo, much of it based on the precepts set down by the university's founders. In this he recalled the Stanfords' wish that the university instill in its students "an appreciation of the blessings of government, a reverence for its institutions, and a love of God and humanity."

WE RECOMMEND this to the attention of those university, college and school professors and teachers who today endeavor instead to instill in the minds of their students and pupils a dislike and disdain for American governmental institutions and principles, and the precepts of freedom, sound, sensible and workable as they are, as set down by the founders of this Republic of the People.

Pike, widely known in this area, former assistant secretary of defense and special assistant to former President Eisenhower, says logically that to successfully combat the foes of America which would destroy our free institutions it is necessary to understand those forces. He called for intensive and objective study of the tenets and tactics of dictatorships and totalitarian forms of government.

Pike's credo, expressed in 12 articles of faith, sets forth a belief in academic freedom and fully as important, in the responsibilities that go with it.

"FREEDOM, of its very nature," he says, "must be conscientiously and responsibly exercised or it becomes license. Freedom demands that the rights of others be respected. Freedom is NOT free — its original price was high in terms of the blood and sacrifice of our own American Revolution. And the costs of freedom must constantly be repaid in terms of individual sacrifice, vigilance, dedication and discipline. Unless as individual citizens we become militant about our liberty, we can lose it."

THE ARTICLES of faith which Pike expressed follow:

- 1—We believe in God.
- 2—We believe in the inherent dignity of all men, irrespective of race, color, or creed.
- 3—We believe that all men have certain inalienable rights which come to them from their Creator, not from the state.
- 4—We believe in "the blessings of liberty regulated by law."
- 5—We believe in "inculcating love and reverence for the great principles of government as derived from the inalienable rights of man to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."
- 6—We believe in the sanctity of the family—the basic unit of society.
- 7—We believe in the right of private property and that private property has its social and civic obligations.
- 8—We believe that labor has rights and responsible obligations.
- 9—We believe that management has rights and obligatory responsibilities.
- 10—We believe in academic freedom and in the responsibilities that are attached to it, as to every form of freedom.
- 11—We believe in the objective study of theories and forms of government, including any which are opposed to "liberty regulated by law."
- 12—We believe that moral absolutes must regulate the personal, family, economic, political, and international life of man if civilization is to survive.

PIKE'S CREDO distinctly opposes that of Communism — it urges belief in God, that certain rights come to us from our Creator and not the state, that liberty is regulated by law, that the dignity of the individual is paramount, and that we believe in the right to private property.

We respectfully call all this to the attention of those university and college professors, and school teachers who today look to the Red Star in Moscow for their guidance instead of to the principles of Christian freedom as set forth by our nation's founders.

We have too many of the former today giving aid and comfort to Communism.

Our Float Association

Sierra Madre's representation in the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena on New Years Day was something more than a handsome float adorned with live beautiful young girls.

Rather, it was a symbol of the civic spirit and pride of Sierra Madreans—a fellowship of courage, foresightedness, determination, unselfishness—AND ACTION, the will to do and dare for this "Little Foothill City of Livability," by hundreds of citizens, young and old, who pooled their efforts, thoughts and ingenuity to conceive and manufacture a float that excited the admiration of everyone who saw it proudly wending its way down the Colorado parade route.

SUCH A COHESIVE, well-executed effort as this cannot help but prove beneficial to Sierra Madre. It means that when the chips are down there are hundreds of progressively-minded citizens, not the mossbacks who want "things to remain as they are," who will move might and

Are State Workers Reentering Politics?

By Edwin S. Capps
(Capitol News Service—
Special to the Sierra Madre News)

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Recent move of the California State Employees Association to poll 5,000 of its members as to their political leanings probably is about as legal as anything can get, but —

State employees, of course, have the privileges of other citizens, to belong to political parties, and to express their views concerning administrations. They also have the right to vote for whom they choose. But because they are in civil service, they are restrained from engaging in some partisan political campaigns.

Civil service originally was adopted, however, with the thought in mind that the action would remove the "spoils system" from state government, offer a government career free from the fear that an incoming administration would clean house and turn over the government jobs to its own supporters.

GENERALLY speaking, this has been true, although certain administrations have abused the theory of civil service, and by using some methods of chicanery, have managed to eliminate state employees from their jobs. But on an overall basis, the objectives of new administrations since civil service was inaugurated, has been to create new jobs for their loyal supporters, thus producing unnecessary additions to the payrolls.

Now, from the CSEA questionnaire, it looks like the shoe is on the other foot.

Over a period of years, this organization, which has something of the status of a company union, has built up its membership by forcing employees to become members if they hope to benefit from health insurance policies.

MEMBERSHIP is considerable as far as a voting factor is concerned. This does not apply to state employees alone, who in the overall total are negligible, but to the people these employees can influence, including families, friends, etc.

Having been conceived in an aura of non-political atmosphere, the question now is whether CSEA is preparing to get civil service employees into politics for one reason or another. The purposes of the poll, of course, are being kept secret by the organization.

But it is pointed out CSEA no doubt will sponsor a pay raise for state employees at the forthcoming budget session of the Legislature, and that after the budget session, a statewide election is forthcoming, which could result in a new administration.

A WORD dropped here and there by CSEA lobbyists regarding the strength of the organization on one side or the other conceivably could have some bearing on what the administration does money-wise for increasing state employee salaries. Salaries were not increased during the 1961 State Legislature.

In any event, while perfectly legal, the question is whether the CSEA should make a move to enter the political scene after the civil service rights of its members were created to keep them out of it. If state employees get back into politics perhaps they are paving the way to get all the way back and eliminate civil service!

Is J.F.K. Abandoning Liberal Friends?

By Robert G. Spivack

WASHINGTON

A TIME FOR TIMIDITY?

—The Gallup Poll and other surveys of public opinion tell us President Kennedy is more popular than President Eisenhower at a similar stage in his first term.

When this popularity was pointed out at a recent press conference of Americans for Democratic Action, a sharp newspaperman asked, "Doesn't that worry you?"

The President's popularity needs analyzing to determine if it is solidly based. Is the President popular because the issues are blurred? Is he popular because he does not stir even a mild domestic controversy? That did not bother him during the campaign when he telephoned Rev. Martin Luther King. Is it his handling of the German crisis? Is the President popular because there is, for the moment, no national figure who challenges his popularity?

All these are possibilities and there is, at least, one more—that the President and his close advisers believe the national mood continues to be one of relaxation and contentment and he responds to it. In 1960 we were told that this was "complacency," officially induced by Gen. Eisenhower who was pictured as a rather amiable old fellow living in a state of euphoria.

Now we are being told that, in view of the external threat of Communism, we must make haste slowly at home. If a Republican Administration counsels taking the "middle-of-the-road" that spells stagnation. But if the Kennedy Administration abandons nearly its entire domestic program, what should it be called?

I HAVE NEVER been entirely convinced that President Eisenhower was a man, personally and not merely abstractly, to march forward with their city. More and more this spirit is becoming prevalent in Sierra Madre. More and more progress is being made by investors in the future of Sierra Madre, and the Rose Bowl Float Association is just such an agency.

We would like to say "well done," enumerating the names of all the scores who assisted in this venture in civic enterprise. Manifestly, this is impossible because we lack space but we will single out the leaders who directed the promotion of and building the float such as Manuel de la Torre, Verne Foster, Chet Lighthizer, Bud Hartman, Bob Mathis, Phyllis Foster, Ralph R. Rule, Van Reed, Susan Maloney, Virginia Lighthizer, Phil Bennett, Ann Tyler, Betty Birch, Bill Bennett, Jim and Florence Fisher, Dr. Paul Narowich and Larry Bevington.

TO THE ABOVE and to all who assisted them in any way, from the Rose Float girls to the flower pasters, the SIERRA MADRE NEWS offers its accolades. To use the pet term of a former great President we say "Bully For Them."

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL issue is only one of many areas in which the Administration has sounded re-dent Eisenhower did misread the signs of his times. The nation was tired after the years of depression, Hitlerism and war. It needed enough time to digest the social reforms of the New Deal. Increasing economic prosperity did not contribute to any domestic sense of urgency.

But a nation cannot stand still indefinitely on such a social plateau, without losing ground.

While there is no doubt the Democrats exaggerated the inadequacies of the Eisenhower Administration, this is not automatic proof that the Kennedy appraisal of the situation at home is now correct—or adequate.

Reports coming from Palm Beach during the recent holidays sound almost as if the President himself yearns for the good old days of Eisenhower "complacency" when to do-nothing was considered doing enough.

Using the word "progressive" as a substitute for "Liberal" hardly conceals the fact the Administration has decided not to push for its public school aid bill, including teachers' salary increases or school construction. A college aid program is needed, but that does not meet the problem at the secondary and elementary level.

To further delay the Federal school aid program means that another group of children from the ages of 6 to 16 will continue with inadequate schooling from inadequately paid, under-trained teachers in overaged and overcrowded school structures.

This could become the monument of the Kennedy Administration.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL issue is only one of many areas in which the Administration has sounded remain, personally and not merely abstractly, to march forward with their city.

More and more this spirit is becoming prevalent in Sierra Madre. More and more progress is being made by investors in the future of Sierra Madre, and the Rose Bowl Float Association is just such an agency.

Our Valiant Mountain Men

How much is a life worth?

Probably no one knows better about life's value than the hardy Mountain Men of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team.

In rescue after rescue, two in recent weeks, they have worked unstintingly, aggressively, expertly, with a dogged determination to rescue young and old folk trapped on ledges or in the canyons of the Sierra Madres.

SO, THEY KNOW first-hand the intense gratitude of the persons who they rescue from death or injury, these rescues made often at the risk of their own lives.

The SIERRA MADRE NEWS expresses its gratitude to the valiant Mountain Men headed by Capt. Fred La Lone and we bespeak the gratitude of all Sierra Madreans to them. Perhaps we might encourage them somewhat by expressing our gratitude to them personally when we see them.

37 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Jan. 16, 1925—Work on the new $15,000 Masonic Temple was started on Wednesday when Contractor O. R. Shearer began setting stakes for the foundation under direction of Architect R. M. Finlayson. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by May.

Contracts for the new building have been let as follows: Carpenter and general supervisor, O. R. Shearer; concrete and plaster, D. and J. Buchan; plumbing, Sierra Madre Hardware Co.; electrical work, G. I. Farman. The new temple will be devoted exclusively to the purposes of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408 and Eastern Star Chapter.

Its extreme dimensions will be 42 by 70 feet and two stories in height. Architect Finlayson has developed a handsome stucco exterior in Tudor Gothic style. (Note—This was the forerunner of the present Masonic Temple Building.)

19 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Jan. 14, 1943—That even bad news can be good news will be testified by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lyon of 760 Canyon Crest, who received word from the Bureau of Navy Personnel that their son, Ben Jr., reported missing in action since the fall of Manila last May, is in a Japanese prisoner of war camp. It was the first word received by them of their son since he was reported unaccounted for after the Japanese occupation of the Philippines. He is being held prisoner in a camp on a small island off Formosa.

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE—Mrs. Sally Clark who has been visiting in the Midwest and Southwest, sends the following:

Dear Editor:
Because I helped select the girls for the Sierra Madre float, I thought they would like to know that I saw them on television New Year's morning, 1,600 miles away, at Lake of the Forest near Bonner Springs, Kansas.

I hoped the C.B.S. cameraman would give me a close-up but no such luck. Nevertheless, I was so filled with pride as our float rolled into view, I came to my feet and gave forth with three cheers for Sierra Madre, those five pretty girls, and all those who help keep Sierra Madre "On Parade."

Not knowing the names and addresses of all the girls on the float, will you forward my congratulations to them?
Best wishes to you and Mrs. Herwig for a happy and successful 1962.
Sincerely,
—SALLY CLARK.

Dear Editor:
We read your article on the Christmas decorations uptown, and we agree with you—it was poor. Last year our merchants spent big money for decorating items. After the holidays, they were stored carelessly; this year they were unfit to use, anything usable was salvaged and sold at public auction. This was a shameful waste.

We've tried two years to get a decorating contest. Last year citations were given out with a promise of a cash contest this year. This year it was forgotten, even though reminded a head of time. Although some of us do not need reminding, look at our public square.

Today I received a telephone call granting me a check and a letter of thanks for my services uptown. I refused both. I don't have to be paid or have a pat on the back for spreading cheer at Christmas time, and I consider it an insult. I received my thanks when I visited places such as the hospital and rest home. Let me tell you folks there is no greater thanks than to see a pale white hand reach up for a tiny candy cane and a smile from pale white lips.

Thursday, Jan. 11, 1962 SIERRA MADRE NEWS—9

Could anyone ask for better thanks?

And now a word to our young folks. I played the part for two years. Now we need somebody to play it for another two years. I'm sure somebody will volunteer. And we need more decorating spirit. Who could fill these places better than our younger generation? I'm withholding my name. I'm known as "S.C." uptown. If necessary, my name can be obtained from headquarters. —"S.C."

Dear Editor:
I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the people of Sierra Madre for giving me the privilege of representing our town in the Rose Parade, and to each one that gave so much of their time in order to make it a most memorable occasion for me. It shall always be remembered as one of the most important and exciting events of my life. Sincerely, —DONNA SEAMON.

News of the Churches

'Rise Up, Oh Men Of God,' Is Rev. Swengel's Theme At Methodist Church

Rev. Clinton W. Swengel, Sierra Madre Methodist Church, will preach on the theme, "Rise Up, Oh Men of God!" Sunday at the morning worship services.

This is "Ministry Sunday" throughout the church, and William Pierson Merrill's great hymn of that name will be featured in the worship service.

Rev. Swengel will stress in the sermon Martin Luther's emphasis that "every Christian has a vocation, a ministry." Revolutionary times like these call for men of real Christian stature. It is the testimony of 2,000 years' experience that men are most happy when they know themselves to be performing a Christian ministry.

Rev. Hansen Will Attend Coast Confab

Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor of Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, will attend the theological conference at Pacific Lutheran Seminary, Berkeley, Monday through Thursday, Jan. 15-18, along with other Lutheran pastors and leaders on the West Coast.

The conference will feature installation of Dr. Charles M. Cooper as president of the seminary at Berkeley, and lectures by outstanding Lutheran and other Christian theologians.

"THE HAPPY CHRIST" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Hansen at 10:10 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 14, at Shepherd of the Hills, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre. Basing his message on Christ changing water into wine at the marriage feast in Cana, Pastor Hansen will point out how Jesus would like to enter lives today to bring them happiness and cheer.

Sunday School classes for all ages are at 9 a.m.

Bethany Notes

THE NEW CHRISTIAN Education Building was used last Sunday for the first time with grades 2 through 6 occupying the new structure as well as the Kindergarten Department. The new building will also be used extensively through the week with the Boys' Brigade group, meeting on Monday night, Pioneer Girls on Tuesday afternoon and night and then on Wednesdays, about 100 ele-

Embree's Report for Year Shows Widespread Scope Of Fire Prevention Work

Sierra Madre's Fire Prevention Bureau made 609 home inspection calls and a total of 1,357 inspections in 1961, according to Fire Marshal Bert Embree's annual report, issued this week.

Violation notices issued numbered 135, with 102 violations corrected.

The Fire Prevention Bureau, of course, does not include the Fire Department activities. It is a separate adjunct, assisting the department, however, in combating fires. It also aids in the investigation of fires and conducts a public relations program to acquaint citizens with fire dangers and corrections thereof.

SOME IDEA of the bureau's many activities may be gleaned from the following highlights:

It helped obtain new fire frequency radio and a "home alert" system for all firemen; made a complete round of inspections on apartments, manufacturing establishments, the schools, homes and hospitals; initiated a home inspection system, with 669 calls completed.

The fire marshal has been an active appointee to the Los Angeles County Watershed Commission, cooperated with the district attorney and city attorney offices and courts; checked plans for 33 apartment buildings and various manufacturing buildings erected or now being built; held pre-planning sessions with the Fire Department; attended a three-day Forest Service Prevention School at Oak Grove; toured various forest fire areas.

The fire marshal was an instructor for a three-night fire prevention course for Boy Scouts; initiated a quarterly meeting of the four Mutual Aid cities attended by fire chiefs and preventive officials; headed up the Sierra Madre weed preventive program; worked with the Pasadena School District on fire prevention policies as a "pre-annexing" procedure.

EMBREE attended various fire prevention schools and clinics, including one at the University of California at Berkeley; put in 63% hours helping fight the Sierra Madre forest fires, both in suppression and in patrol work; expanded the Junior Fire Marshal program for the public schools; helped with Fire Prevention Week and traveled a total of 4,486 miles during the year.

Dee Nourse Passes Away

Services for Dee W. Nourse, a Californian for 37 years and Sierra Madre resident for the past ten years, were conducted Monday at the Ripple Mortuary, with Rev. George W. Lindsay, minister of the Congregational Church, officiating. Committal was private in Live Oak Cemetery.

Mr. Nourse, who resided at 274 Mariposa and who was identified with the Sierra Engineering Co., was a leading Mason, having received the 32nd degree from the Machias Urania Masonic Lodge of Buffalo, N.Y. He was originally from Delavan, N.Y.

Mr. Nourse was a former resident of Long Beach where he was employed by the City of Long Beach for 12 years when he retired, and after which he and Mrs. Nourse moved to Sierra Madre.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ella F. Nourse, prominent in Sierra Madre church and club circles, and a sister, Mrs. Charles C. Randall of Bethesda, Md. Mr. Nourse passed away at Sierra Madre Community Hospital on Jan. 5.
